

I love to hunt and fish almost as much as I love building homes. Some of my fondest memories are of sharing these passions with my dad. He taught me that along with the sport comes the responsibility to protect it. And like me, hunters across this country have contributed billions of dollars to non-profit organizations such as Ducks Unlimited and Pheasants Forever to promote the restoration of habitat and conservation of our wildlife.

WHY DO I GIVE THROUGH THE HOMEBUILDING COMMUNITY FOUNDATION?

I support these two groups through my donor advised fund with the Homebuilding Community Foundation (HCF). Created by leaders of our homebuilding industry, HCF lets me direct my charitable giving my way, just as I always have – yet now it’s easier, more effective and more tax efficient – so I give even more.

I like to know where my money is going whether its business or charity. And that’s why I give through HCF.
